The business men of Ocala are out in a long article in The Star opposing local option.

Sour milk is said to be the healthiest drink there is. We thought all the time that the milk men knew what they were about.

M. Witte has arrived at St. Petersburg. But he got there late at night, so he couldn't see his family before he met the Little Father.

It is said that if you drink plenty of water between meals your nerves will become steady. But you must not fill too much on other drinks at meals.

While a family in Utica, N. Y., was having a struggle to keep the hunger wolf from their door, there came a letter informing the mother that her father had died and left her $40,000.

Ginger, or rather alcohol with a slight flavoring of ginger, it is said is now a popular substitute for "John Barleycorn." The drug stores report a tremendous demand for this article during the past few weeks.

The Democratic party has joined the Reformers in Philadelphia and both city and county may become cleansed of their corruption, and all voters who are "legally dead" will have their names taken off the poll lists.

Secretary Taft thinks the people of Japan are all right and very friendly toward the United States. He arrived at Tokyo just after the mob was exhausted from previous efforts, and in consequence he escaped the wrath of the yellow boys.

The trouble with some people is that they do not fight yellow fever in the proper way. If you stand up to it, Marquis of Queensbury rules, like they do in Pennsylvania, it will get the best of you. The sooner you take to your bed and send for the doctor, the better your chances.

The following from The Scientific American is well worth remembering: "If you are afraid of lightning, here is a very simple safeguard to remember: Simply put on your gum shoes or rubbers and then stand up so your clothes will not touch anything. Whether you are in doors or out of doors you are perfectly safe, for rubber is a non-conductor and you are perfectly insulated."

The sinking of some of the high officials of the Atlantic Coast Line to our town has caused a good deal of speculation among our people as to the reason for their visit. While nothing is yet known, the opinion prevails that this company, that has had their feet on our neck for so long, realized that their grasp would soon be broken on account of the building of the extension of the Gainesville and Gulf, and that it was too late. Twenty years of poor service will not be forgotten. The people of Brooksville are a unit to not only pledge their undivided support to the Gainesville and Gulf but to emphasize this by meeting any reasonable demand of this road. — Brooksville Star.

JAP SURGERY.

The Japanese are a wonderful people, and should they continue to advance for the next ten years as rapidly as they have in the past, will be the superiors of those to whom they are indebted for their first lessons in advancement in all branches.

At the meeting of the military surgeons of the United States, held in Detroit this week, Surgeon-General Szuki of the imperial Japanese navy, delivered an address, in which he told of the methods employed by the surgeons in the navy, which is of much interest:

"Much of our success in the treatment of wounds," said Dr. Szuki, "I ascribe to the fact that before every engagement I ordered each member of the crew to bathe and put on perfectly clean underclothing. In a great many shot wounds, fragments of clothing are carried into the body and our insistence upon clean underclothing prevented many cases of blood poisoning among our wounded."

"The vision of the men who fire the guns on a warship must necessarily be of the very best if their shoes are to count. Before every engagement the surgeons in the Japanese fleets examined carefully the eyes of all the gunners. Any of them found with slight impairment of vision were treated, and if the impairment was too grave to yield to immediate treatment, they were transferred to another station and their places filled by men whose eyes were perfect. And, too, during engagements every battery crew was supplied with water in which a one per cent solution of boric acid had been mixed to wash out their eyes when they became affected by powder, smoke or dust. We also issued to every man in the fleet, before going into action, cotton with which to plug his ears and thereby prevent rupture of the ear drums by the concussion of the gun fire."

The men, he said, were always furnished warm clothing in the winter, and they never had a case of frost bite during all the time before Port Arthur, and in summer they were provided with straw hats to prevent sunstroke. His address showed the complete system adopted by the Japanese to be worthy of emulation by all the powers that desire to look after the best interests of "the man behind the gun," as well as the officer in command, whom he said gave orders from the compass bridge instead of the conning tower, as he could see better and was less liable to be hit from the flying pieces of steel.

LOCAL OPTION.

The recent elections in Putnam and Volusia counties on the question of local option has made no change in the standing, as Putnam county was carried by the saloon element, and Volusia county, which has been in the line of local prohibition, decided to remain there by a very good majority. Clay county will hold an election on October 3d and it is expected the prohibition people will carry the day.

From the present outlook it has the appearance of a few counties being added to the local option column before many months.

A majority of the counties of the State are now in the local option column, known as the "dry" column, as follows:

Dry—Alachua, Baker, Bradford, Calhoun, Columbia, Citrus, DeSoto, Hamilton, Hernando, Holmes, Jackson, Jefferson, LaFayette, Lake, Leon, Levy, Liberty, Manatee, Pasco, Polk, Sumter, Suwannee, Taylor, Volusia, Wakulla, Walton, Washington—27.

Wet—Brevard, Clay, Dade, Duval, Escambia, Gadsden, Franklin, Hillsborough, Lee, Madison, Marion, Monroe, Nassau, Orange, Osceola, Putnam, Santa Rosa, St. Johns, St. Lucie—19.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A SILLY NOTION.

The rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Jersey City, has issued a decree against women attending church without their hats. He cites a passage of Scripture which it would seem forbids the habit, and this too sensitive and weak minister contends that "when women go to church with elaborate coiffures they make a physical display of feminine charms which is distracting to the male population, and therefore they should not go without their hats."

Such silly nonsense could hardly be supposed to come from a minister who would have sufficient intelligence to deliver a sensible sermon. A woman should always look her best when at church. If she hasn't got the best she can afford, let her wear the best she has got. If her hair looks nicer than her hat, let her wear her hair in as fine style as she can make it. A man who cannot enjoy looking with modest admiration on a congregation of handsomely dressed ladies isn't fit to be in the pulpit.

SUNSTROKES.

With the return of autumn and the pastors, it will be discovered that Satan has not taken advantage even of the Thursday half-holiday.

The funny post cards are getting to be so awfully funny that they are coming into disrepute. There is always a chance to overdo a good thing.

Editor Bok of The Ladies' Home Journal says that women dress to please men. He evidently thinks that women are lacking in modesty. Some may, but others dress because it is the custom.

A book agent in Georgia was met at the gate by a farmer with a shot-gun and he inquired: "Do you want the Life of the President?" "No; it's all I can do to save my own life in this pesky country these days."

Rev. W. H. Quale of Chicago advises those who are without children to go out and borrow one. The reverend gentleman would find that people who have children have more love for them than he seems to, if he would expect even a man and woman with half a dozen could spare one. People are not all built like Bro. Quale.

Winter Garden has a new paper called The Ricochet. It is three columns and four pages and published by Newton & Marsh. May it strike many objects in ricocheting around the country.
